PRINCIPLES ON WHICH AMERICA STAKES ALL IN GREAT CONTEST

TASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 4. - (Special.) - Presiden Wilson, in his message to congress, restated the war aims of the United States and, as it soon will be shown, of the principal affies of America. Here in substance is the president's conception of the principles for which we are fighting:

"Those who desire to bring peace about before that purpose is achieved, I counsel to carry their advice elsewhere. We will not enter-

German power, consisting of "combined intrigue and force," "must be crushed, and, if if he not utterly brought to an end, at least shut out from the friendly intercourse of nations."

When the present rulers of Germany shall have been supplanted by trustworthy spokesmen of the German people, ready to subscribe to provisions to protect the world from the recurrence of war, "we shall be willing to pay the full price for peace," that price being "justice done at every point and to every nation; the final settlement must affect our enumber as well as our friends."

"We shall regard the war as wen only when the German people say to us, through properly accredited representatives, that they are ready to agree on a settlement based upon justice and the reparation of wrongs their rulers have done. They have done a wrong to Belgium which must be repaired."

fices regarding the snlistment of registered men between now and Dec. 15.

Word was sent from Washington by Adjt. Gen. McChin recently that up to Dec. 15 all registered men who had not been called by their local boards would be enlisted in the army or navy provided they obtained written permission from their local boards.

Some of the boards evidently falled to receive proper notification of the new ruling from Washington, for they have refused to grant the necessary permission to men requesting it.

Under the old ruling no registered man could enlist voluntarily, either in the army or navy.

The telegraphic instructions from Gen. McCain specifically state:

"Between now and Dec. 15 it is desired to afford registrants as wide an opportunity as possible to enlist in both the army and the mavy. Therefore, any registrant, even though he has been called by his local board to report for physical examination, may enlist untill Dec. 15 upon presentation to the recruiting office of a certificate from his local board that he will not be needed to fill any deferred percentage of the quota of the board."

Since the ruling was made between 400 and 500 men are being enlisted daily by the army recruiting offices for all branches of the service.

Claude W. Enlow of Philadelphia, a member of the Three Hundred and Fifteenth regiment, was sentenced to three years Imprisonment and dishonorable discharge from the service for refusing to obey the commands of his superior officers when ordered to do superior officers when ordered to do started. the first man to return to the Prairie division from the trenches resumed his duties as chief of staff today. Col. Naylor has been in Europe visiting the various battlefronts with Gen. George Bell Jr. for the last two and a half months.

His chief message to the men here was "cleanliness." It is the first requisite of a spidjer in the English army. When the Englishmen are in the first line trenches they are required to shave daily. When they are in back of the lines for a period of rest they are required to have their shoes and buttons shined. Cleanliness and neatness will be drilled into the men at every occasion here.

Chance to Be Officers.

The officers' training camp for this division will open on or about Jan. 5. The new order specifies that 10 per cent of the men of each organization will be picked for a first trial and that finally 1.7 per cent of the men will be perfected to remaining in the salect.

When a German trench was captured, Capt. Dugmore said, the British called down to the Germans in a dugout to come up and surrender.

"Mercy, kamerad," answered the Germans, who came out, hands up. As a precaution, two "Tommies" stood ready with bombs having short fusts. Two officers jumped out behind the men and were just about to open fire on their captors when the bombers saw them and spoiled their plan.

"There were some more dugouts," he continued, "but we asked no questions. We knew the Germans there would not trouble us any more."

N order to supply the body with the energy and heat required and replace daily waste from wear, what we eat must contain varying quantities of the elements composing the body. The measure of the amount of food so required, when speaking of the heat and energy requirements, is expressed in calories (energy units.)

Moxley's Margarine contains more energy units than butter, cheese, oatmeal, pork, steak, eggs, chicken, bread, potatoes etc., and costs much less.

Moxley's Margarine is a most delicious food. As a spread for bread, or toust, or cakes, etc., it is unequaled. Moxley's has been a table favorite for 36 years,

In churning Moxley's Margarine the rich Pasteurized Milk and Cream used is from our inspected dairies; every other ingredient is selected for quality and tested for purity, so that Moxley's is a rich cream white. Your dealer will furnish you free a capsule of pure vegetable color (same as used in the best creamery) so you may color it a golden yellow.

BY JANE EDDINGTON. Cooking Curly Endice.

The other day when a good many grocers were charging 15 cents a head for curly or German endive I saw a box of it outside of a high class store, every head of which seemed to be frozen stiff. At any rate, for three or four deep they were frozen, and there must have been twenty, if not more, in the box. Was that not a shame?

The bleached part of a good head of endive is enough for three or four green salad portions. Mixed with a head of cress there would be enough for six servings. A little new onion cut fine, or tomato used as a garnish for this salad, or canned asparagus tips, and we have something that is highly attractive and deliciously crisp. It also has a modicum of that good bitter which today we get in too few foods.

For an onion flavored sauce peel a medium sized onion, slice it down in thin slices with-out letting the whole fall apart, then slice the other way in the same fashion, and then cut the whole onion across into the frying pan in which there is a tablespoon of just melted butter or margarine. Gently "sweat" the onion in the fat for at least five minutes. By covering the pan it will be tender over a tiny bit of fire in that time. Cutting the onion in this fashion, the chef's method, saves get-

When the onion is partly cooked stir in a scant level tablespoon of flour, and when that is mixed with the fat add a cup of milk and stir until the whole has thickened. Often the outside is allowed to rot, which makes the inner part more or less unsafe because hard to wash and because it may be tainted with the rot. Even if it does not rot this outer part is greatly wilted.

The most insignificant scratch, cut, pin prick, burn or other wound may turn into blood-poisoning and cause the loss of a limb or life. It doesn't pay to take chances. Wash the wound in warm water, apply Turpe and bandage with linen. Turpe cleanes, soothes and side in the healing. Smoke Tom Moore

Most of our troubles never happen-we can afford to be light-hearted. Even in choosing a cigar that will smoke pleasantly-not heavily-the way is made easy.

To men who want the kind of a smoke best suited to their own taste and physique, a cigar like Tom Moore carries a particular appeal. Its mild, balanced flavor suggests judicious compromise-pleasant smoking, with no fear of "heavy" penalties.

That's why Tom Moore deserves to be called "a light-hearted Havana."

Visitors at the National Live Stock are very welcome guests of this store. Espe Christmas season will they find its many and splendid service exceedingly helpful.

The Coming Christmas

Of all the Christmases that have come to us, this Christmas will bring with it the greatest test of our own faith in ourselves.

As one who, knowing he is right, "carries on" calmly, confidently, cheerfully, we must go about our Christmas plans as we have always done, without heed less extravagance of course, but remembering that to-day friendships take upon themselves an even deeper meaning and friends are closer friends than ever.

We will remember them at Christmas in that wholesome, sin-cere, traditionally American way.

From These Christmas Ribbons Are Made Most Charming Bags

The important thing is to choose them early enough to have assortments as they are now, full and complete, so that any clever and original idea one has in mind can be successfully carried out.

Metallic Ribbon for Bags

In gold and black, and silver and black, are offered in the 10-inch and 111/2-inch widths. These are the ribbons wanted for hat crowns, too. $7.50 to $18 yard.

Ribbons in dark colorings in brocaded patterns and wide warp prints in beautiful designs range in price from 95c to $4.50 yard, with
